

Name _____

Hearts and Paws: A Pet Rescue Adventure

Short Answer Key

1. Lily, Max, and Mia were responsible for feeding the animals, providing care, and spending time playing and cuddling with them.
2. The children helped Rosie overcome her fears by spending hours patiently working with her, gaining her trust, and helping her become a confident and happy dog.
3. The children learned that responsibility meant taking care of those who couldn't care for themselves and that compassion was about providing comfort and love to animals in need.
4. Hearts and Paws became a beloved part of the community as families visited to adopt pets, volunteers came to help, and the shelter thrived. Emily, Lily, Max, and Mia played a crucial role in providing care and creating a positive atmosphere.
5. Hearts and Paws was an important place for both the animals and the people because it provided loving homes for animals in need and allowed the family to learn valuable life lessons about responsibility and compassion.
