

Name _____

Shadows Ahead

Multiple Choice Questions

1. How does Twilight create suspense in the beginning?
  - a) By showing Bella having a normal day at school.
  - b) By making Edward act mysteriously and hiding secrets.
  - c) By having Edward tell Bella everything right away.
  - d) By making Bella scared of everyone at school.

2. What is an example of foreshadowing in Twilight?
  - a) Edward's eyes changing color and his warnings to Bella.
  - b) Bella ignoring Edward completely.
  - c) Edward never talking about himself.
  - d) Bella being afraid of her father.

3. Why is Bella surprised when Edward saves her from the car accident?
  - a) He gets hurt in the process.
  - b) He calls for help instead of saving her himself.
  - c) He uses a tool to move the car away.
  - d) He moves faster than a human should be able to.

4. How does foreshadowing help the reader?
  - a) It makes the book shorter.
  - b) It explains everything at the start of the story.
  - c) It gives clues about future events and builds excitement.
  - d) It helps the reader know exactly what will happen.

5. What event builds suspense the most in Twilight?
  - a) Bella learning that Edward is a vampire.
  - b) Bella doing her homework.
  - c) Bella having lunch at school.
  - d) Edward taking a trip away from Forks.

