

The Peak

DIRECTIONS: Read the story. Then put the events in the pictures in order from 1 to 4.

Hank looked down into the crevasse. It was deep. Really deep. The rock on the other side was probably three feet away. If he jumped, he might slip. He decided to take a big step. For a moment, he stood there straddling the slit in the Earth. Then he was on the other side. An hour later, he was standing at the peak of the mountain! Little did he know, the trip back down would be just as hard. He straddled the same rift in the mountain heading back down, and almost lost his balance. After that, he used his safety rope. He carefully fastened it to a sturdy jutting rock, and held onto the rope as he finished his steep descent.

<input data-bbox="214 1230 332 1348" type="checkbox"/> 	<input data-bbox="850 1230 969 1348" type="checkbox"/>
<input data-bbox="214 1591 332 1709" type="checkbox"/> 	<input data-bbox="850 1591 969 1709" type="checkbox"/> 