

ANSWERS

1. I'm learning braille. I think I'm really starting to get a feel for it.

literal: feel the braille bumps; figurative: master it

2. When my little brother said he was afraid of speed bumps, my dad told him to get over it.

literal: slowly going over the bump; figurative: slowly recovering from the fear

3. What I need is a calculator that I can really count on.

literal: use a calculator for counting; figurative: depend on