

ANSWERS

The posters are propaganda. They use appeals to emotion and identity (patriotism), as well as plain folks (everyday people can fight in the war by purchasing war bonds; the posters draw parallels between military victory, freedom, and the act of buying war bonds.)