

Name _____

Apple Picking Surprises

Short Answer Key

1. The Smith family's autumn tradition is going apple picking. On the day of the story, they prepared for it by packing their baskets, donning sunhats, and heading to the orchard with excitement.
2. Lily spotted a tree with lavender leaves, which was different from the green leaves of the other trees.
3. The apples from the lavender tree were a lovely shade of lavender, just like the leaves.
4. The Smith family made surprising discoveries in the orchard, including a tree with blue leaves and blue apples, and another tree with golden leaves and golden apples. These discoveries added to their adventure by making it magical and unexpected.
5. By the end of the story, the Smiths felt that their apple picking excursion had been the most memorable one yet because it had led them to an enchanted orchard filled with colorful surprises, enriching their family tradition.

