

Name _____ Irony

Situational Irony

Situational irony is when the actions or events are the opposite of what is expected. Circle the situations that are ironic.

A fire truck catches on fire while parked inside the fire stations.

Hank is running away to avoid getting hit with a water balloon. He trips and the water balloon he is carrying bursts and gets him wet.

A marriage counselor has been divorced and remarried six times.

A reader knows that the main character's husband is really a serial killer, but the main character does not.

A girl is ravenous, she hasn't eaten all day. When her mother asks if she's hungry, she says, "I could probably manage a bite."

A man sells his guitar to buy his wife a pendant for her gold chain. The wife sells her gold chain to buy her husband a case for his guitar.