The Doughnut Quest

On a bright day, eight friends embarked on a doughnut quest. They thought it would be fun to find the highest-rated doughnut shop in the city.

Though the journey was long, they laughed and enjoyed the adventure. They walked through the neighborhood, past a high school and a library. Suddenly, they caught the delightful scent of doughnuts in the air.

Following the smell, they arrived at a small shop with a big, bright sign. They bought enough doughnuts to fill a large box. Their favorite was the one with a light, fluffy texture and a rich chocolate glaze. Even though they were full, they were thrilled with their delicious discovery.
