

Name _____

The Magical Train Ride

In a faraway land, there was a magical train called the Glittering Express. This train was not like any other train. It could fly through the air, sail across the seas, and travel through the mountains. The Glittering Express had a bright, shining engine and colorful carriages that sparkled in the sunlight.

One day, a brave girl named Daisy decided to take a ride on the Glittering Express. Daisy had always dreamed of going on exciting adventures. She packed her bag with snacks, a raincoat, and her favorite book. As the train arrived at the station, Daisy could hear the cheerful whistle blowing. She climbed aboard and found a cozy seat by the window.

As the train began its journey, it soared into the sky, passing fluffy clouds and soaring birds. Daisy looked out the window and saw a beautiful rainbow. The train then descended and sailed smoothly over a crystal-clear lake. Fish with shimmering scales swam alongside the train, making Daisy smile with delight.

The next stop was a quaint little town known for its delicious pastries. Daisy got off the train and visited a bakery. She bought a chocolate croissant and a strawberry tart. After enjoying the tasty treats, she walked back to the train, eager for more adventures.

The Glittering Express continued its journey, climbing up steep mountain trails. Daisy saw goats with long, curly tails grazing on the mountainside. She waved to them, and they bleated back in greeting. The train chugged along, and soon they arrived at a hidden valley filled with colorful flowers. Daisy got off the train again to explore the valley. She picked a bouquet of daisies and daffodils to take home.

As the day came to an end, the Glittering Express flew back to Daisy's hometown. She waved goodbye to the magical train, feeling grateful for the amazing adventure she had experienced. Daisy knew she would never forget her wonderful day on the Glittering Express.

