

ANSWERS

1. After so many years of high school, it's hard to believe that Chris has graduated. It's strange because for such a long time our lives have revolved around school.

1. After so many years of high school it's hard to believe that Chris has graduated; it's strange because for such a long time our lives have revolved around school.

1. After so many years of high school it's hard to believe that Chris has graduated, and it's strange because for such a long time our lives have revolved around school.

2. I love the pets I have today. Still, I often think of the pets who came before, how much I loved them, and how much I miss them.

2. I love the pets I have today; still, I often think of the pets who came before, how much I loved them, and how much I miss them.

2. I love the pets I have today, but I still often think of the pets who came before, how much I loved them, and how much I miss them.