

ANSWERS

Examples May Vary

Juxtaposition means intentionally placing two things next to or near each other in order to show their similarities and their differences.

Antithesis is a type of juxtaposition in which completely opposite words are placed in a parallel position to each other within a sentence.

Foil is a type of juxtaposition specific to two characters in order to emphasize their opposing qualities.