

Making Predictions

Making predictions is part of the experience of reading. Look at a book and make predictions to answer the questions.

1. Study the book's cover. Draw what you see.

2. Write the book's title _____

3. Make a prediction about the book. Your prediction could be about what the book will be about or whether you think you will like it and why.
