

ANSWERS

1. Every person matters. Although what one person does may not seem to make a difference, what everyone does does make a difference overall.
2. Anyone who is being their authentic selves diverges from "the norm" or there is no such thing as "normal."