

Name _____

Diwali's Magical Lamp

Deepak was a young boy who lived in a small village in India. Diwali, the festival of lights, was his favorite time of the year. The whole village would come alive with colorful decorations, delicious sweets, and the warm glow of oil lamps. Deepak loved helping his family prepare for Diwali, but he had always wished for something magical to happen during this special festival.

One sunny afternoon, while Deepak was exploring the dusty attic of his house, he stumbled upon an old and dusty oil lamp. It was covered in cobwebs and seemed forgotten for years. With a curious smile, he wiped off the dust and gave it a polish. To his amazement, the lamp began to shimmer and shake, and a friendly genie appeared!

The genie explained, "I am Diya, the genie of the Diwali lamp. I will grant you three wishes to make your Diwali even more special." Deepak's eyes sparkled with excitement as he made his first wish. He wished for a never-ending box of sweets to share with his family and friends. Instantly, the box appeared, overflowing with delicious treats.

For his second wish, Deepak wished for a beautiful set of colorful clothes to wear during Diwali. Again, Diya granted his wish, and Deepak was dressed in the most exquisite garments he had ever seen.

Deepak saved his final wish for something extraordinary. As the night of Diwali approached, he wished for the village to be lit up with the most magnificent and colorful fireworks anyone had ever seen. Diya waved her hand, and the night sky exploded with a breathtaking display of lights, colors, and patterns.

The entire village gathered to watch the magical fireworks, and Deepak's heart swelled with joy. His Diwali had turned into a dream come true, thanks to the magical lamp and the kind genie, Diya.

As the last firework faded away, Diya disappeared back into the lamp. Deepak knew he could keep the lamp for next year, but he realized that the true magic of Diwali came from sharing happiness with loved ones. He decided to keep the lamp hidden away, waiting for another special moment to use it.