

Name _____

The Lunch Swap Club

Short Answer Key

1. The rules of the Lunch Swap Club were to bring something homemade to share, and it couldn't be something bought from a store. These rules were important to ensure that each lunch was unique and made with care, fostering a sense of creativity and friendship.
2. "The Lunch Swap Club Cookbook" was created to compile their favorite lunch recipes. They sold copies of the cookbook to raise money for a local charity, benefiting the community by making a positive impact.
3. The Lunch Swap Club's daily lunch swaps deepened their friendship by allowing them to share stories and family traditions through homemade dishes. They learned about each other's cultures and backgrounds, strengthening their bond.
4. Answers will vary. Students may name lunch items they enjoy making, such as sandwiches, salads, or pasta dishes. The reasons for their choices could include taste, cultural significance, or a desire to introduce their friends to a new recipe.
5. The Lunch Swap Club became more popular and attracted more members over time because it offered a fun and delicious way for students to try a variety of homemade lunches while deepening friendships and creating a sense of community.

