The Kids Who Brought Back Valentine's Day

Short Answer Key

1. The children created handmade valentines, baked heart-shaped cookies and cupcakes, and left treats and valentines on doorsteps around Harmonyville. They also decorated the town square with paper hearts and ribbons.
2. The adults began to remember the holiday's importance and started celebrating it once again. They came together, exchanged gifts and laughter, and enjoyed the spirit of Valentine's Day.
3. The mayor announced that Valentine's Day would become an official town holiday again. This was significant because it showed that the adults of Harmonyville had rediscovered the holiday's importance and were committed to celebrating love and kindness.
4. The children wished for a world where love and kindness would never be forgotten. This wish was important because it reflected their belief in the importance of spreading love and kindness not only on Valentine's Day but every day of the year.
