

Name _____

Whiskers the Cat

Zara loved building things with blocks. One rainy afternoon, she decided to build the tallest tower ever. "This will be amazing!" she said. She stacked block after block, higher and higher. The tower wobbled but didn't fall. Suddenly, her cat Whiskers jumped onto the table. "No, Whiskers, don't-!" But it was too late. Whiskers batted a block, and the tower came crashing down! Zara gasped, then started to laugh. "Let's build it again, even taller!" she said, giving Whiskers a pat. Together, Zara and Whiskers started building, and the rainy day turned into the best building day ever.
