

ANSWERS

1. The narrator is not a character in the story, and the reader can know what all the characters do, say, see, feel, or think.

2. Will vary.

3. Limitations: The author cannot get too in depth with any one character without making the story very long.

Advantages: The author can tell multiple stories at one time; the reader can know things that the characters do not.