Time Travelers of Tomorrow

Meet our young group of friends:

- Alex, the tech whiz
- Maya, the history buff
- Leo, the fearless leader
- Zoe, the bookworm with a wild imagination.

They lived in a quiet neighborhood, but one day, their lives took an unexpected turn. One sunny afternoon, as they explored an abandoned library, they stumbled upon an old book titled "Chronicles of Black History." When they opened it, a magical portal appeared, transporting them to pivotal moments in Black history.

Their adventures took them to watch Martin Luther King Jr.'s "I Have a Dream" speech, where they stood alongside thousands of dreamers, feeling the power of his words. They also witnessed Rosa Parks's courageous act on a segregated bus, sitting right behind her.

In another adventure, they joined the Harlem Renaissance, dancing to the rhythms of jazz with Langston Hughes and Zora Neale Hurston. They even traveled back in time to the Underground Railroad, helping Harriet Tubman guide escaped slaves to freedom.

Throughout their journey, they faced challenges, learned valuable lessons, and made history themselves. They realized that each moment in time was a puzzle piece in the story of Black history.
