

Name _____

Accountability Counts

Short Answer Key

1. The Hen does the work herself because no one else is willing to help.
2. The animals are eager to eat the bread even though they did not help.
3. The story shows that people should take responsibility for their actions if they want to achieve something.
4. The Hen asks for help to give the animals a chance to take responsibility, even though she knows they will refuse.
5. The animals may learn that they need to contribute if they want to share in the rewards.

