What Does an Alpaca Look Like?

Short Answer Key

1. An alpaca is about 3 feet tall at the shoulder and weighs between 100-200 pounds.
2. Alpaca fleece is soft and hypoallergenic, while sheep fleece contains lanolin, making it oilier.
3. Alpacas are gentle because they have no horns, claws, or fangs and are calm animals.
4. Alpacas use their long necks to reach food easily.
5. Alpacas communicate by humming and using body language.
