

Amplification

Amplification means to amplify (expand or embellish) text by adding additional information to emphasize or exaggerate a point. It can be used to describe something that we see every day but may not normally pay much attention to.

Read each simple sentence. Think of some ways you might amplify each one.

The men arm wrestled.

The watch was old.

Hank finally caught the fish.

Choose one of the sentences to amplify, using your notes. Write the revised sentence on the lines below.
