Decoding Tennis: The Anatomy of a Tennis Match

Short Answer Key

1. The purpose of the serve in tennis is to start the rally, and the server stands behind the baseline to serve the ball.
2. Mental toughness in tennis is essential because it helps players stay focused, make quick decisions, and maintain a positive attitude, especially under pressure.
3. A tiebreaker game is used to determine the set winner when a set is tied at 6-6. Players aim to be the first to reach seven points with a two-point lead.
4. Net play in tennis involves moving to the net and using volleys to finish points quickly. It is important because it can help players gain control of the point.
5. Demonstrating good sportsmanship in tennis is essential to show respect to opponents, officials, and the rules of the game. An example of good sportsmanship is shaking hands with your opponent after a match, win or lose.
