Ice Skating Party

One frosty day in the Arctic, a polar bear named Percy decided to try ice skating. He wobbled and slipped on the ice, but he didn't give up. Soon, he had all the other polar bears laughing with his funny ice-skating moves.

They all joined in, slipping and sliding, making it the silliest ice-skating party in the North Pole. Percy may not have been the best ice skater, but he sure knew how to have a good time!
