The Miniature World in the Backyard

Short Answer Key

1. Emily discovered features like talking insects, firefly fairies, tiny houses made of leaves and twigs, and a sparkling river. She also found a hidden door that led to the miniature world.
2. Emily protected the miniature world from the storm by using the glow of the firefly fairies to create a protective barrier, shielding the tiny inhabitants from the rain and wind.
3. Emily kept the magical glowing flower as a reminder of her incredible adventure and the bond she formed with her tiny friends. It symbolized the magical connection between her world and the miniature world under the earth.
4. The tiny inhabitants were thrilled with Emily's visits and felt grateful for her friendship. They learned about the human world through her stories, gained knowledge, and saw the world above through her eyes.
5. Emily's friendship with Andy the ant was one of trust and camaraderie. Andy welcomed Emily to their world and explained their way of life. As the story progressed, Emily's courage during the storm cemented her role as a hero in the miniature world, deepening her bond with Andy and the other inhabitants.
