

Name _____

The Magical Messenger Bag

Open-Ended Response Answer Key

1. Mia's messenger bag likely chose her because of her kind and compassionate nature. She had the qualities of empathy and a willingness to help others, making her the right choice for the role of the Messenger of the Enchanted Forest.
2. Answers may vary, but students might consider factors such as their willingness to help others, their sense of adventure, and their desire to explore magical worlds.
3. Friendship played a crucial role in Mia's adventures as her relationships with the talking animals and other magical creatures helped her overcome challenges and achieve her goals. For example, the animals offered guidance and support during her quest, and her kindness earned their trust.
4. Mia's adventures in the Enchanted Forest opened her eyes to a world of magic and wonder, which contrasted with her ordinary teenage life. These experiences allowed her to appreciate the beauty and possibilities in the world around her, enriching her perspective and making her more adventurous and compassionate.

