

Name _____

Battle Shifts

Open-Ended Response Answer Key

1. If the South had won Gettysburg, they might have been able to invade the North, which could have changed the outcome of the war.
2. Lincoln gave the Gettysburg Address to inspire Americans to keep fighting for freedom and unity.
3. People in the South were likely very upset and felt hopeless after losing so many resources.
4. The war teaches us that unity, fairness, and strong leadership can shape the future of a nation.

