Bella the Butterfly

One sunny day, a mischievous butterfly named Bella decided to play a prank on her butterfly friends. She put on a pair of glasses and pretended to be a wise old butterfly professor. She told her friends that they needed to do a funny dance to make their wings sparkle.

The butterflies giggled and danced, making their wings flutter with laughter. Bella couldn't keep her act up and burst into laughter too. They all had a good laugh and continued to flutter around, enjoying the beautiful day.
