

Name _____

The Life Cycle of a Bison

Short Answer Key

1. A bison calf has a reddish-brown coat and can stand within hours of birth.
2. The calf stays close to its mother and the herd for protection.
3. Calves start eating grass after a few weeks.
4. A yearling is a young bison that is about one year old.
5. Bulls often live alone because they are larger and compete for mates.

