

Name _____

The Black Death: Europe's Darkest Hour

Short Answer Key

1. The three major forms of the plague caused by the Black Death were bubonic, septicemic, and pneumonic.
2. The shortage of labor after the Black Death led to higher wages and increased demand for workers, resulting in economic and social changes.
3. The Black Death influenced art through themes like the "Dance of Death" and inspired a resurgence of faith, leading to the construction of religious buildings.
4. Measures to control the spread of the Black Death included quarantines and the use of plague doctors. They were not entirely successful due to limited medical knowledge.
