

Name _____

The Haunting of Blackwood Manor

Short Answer Key

1. Blackwood Manor had a sinister and eerie atmosphere, with decaying walls and an air heavy with a cold, damp chill. It was an imposing mansion nestled amidst a dense forest.
2. In the basement, they found a dusty old tome bound in leather, which was rumored to be the family's cursed book of spells. They went there to uncover the truth about the curse.
3. The sinister voice warned them to leave the basement, but they ignored it because they were determined to uncover the truth and break the curse.
4. When they began reading the forbidden incantations, the room came alive with spectral figures and ghostly wails, and the curse of Blackwood Manor awakened.
5. The friends broke the curse by deciphering the incantation needed to seal it. With the last words spoken, the mansion trembled, and the malevolent forces were banished. The outcome was that the mansion stood silent once more, and the friends survived the haunting.
