

Name _____

Breaking Rules

Short Answer Key

1. Some crayons felt overused, like Red and Blue, while others felt ignored, like Pink and Beige.
2. Duncan decided to color in unexpected ways, like making a pink dinosaur and a black sun.
3. His final drawing had unusual colors, like a blue tree and an orange ocean, instead of following normal color expectations.
4. Black Crayon wanted to be more than just an outline and have an important role in the picture.
5. Duncan learned that creativity means thinking outside the box and trying new ideas instead of following the usual way of doing things.

