

Name _____

The Busy Robot

Toto was a busy robot who loved to help people. He lived in a big city with lots of tall buildings and busy streets. One sunny day, Toto decided to visit his friend, Nono the robot.

Toto took a shiny blue car to Nono's house. "Hello, Nono!" Toto said. Nono smiled and waved. They decided to clean the park near Nono's house.

Toto and Nono packed a bag with brooms, rakes, and trash bags. They walked to the park and found a messy spot with lots of leaves and litter. Toto and Nono worked hard. They swept the leaves, picked up the trash, and made the park look nice.

As they worked, Toto told Nono a funny story. Nono laughed so hard that he almost dropped his rake. After cleaning, they sat on a bench and enjoyed the clean park. They watched the birds fly and the kids play.

When the sun started to set, Toto and Nono packed up their things. They walked back to Nono's house, happy and tired from their busy day. "See you soon, Toto!" Nono said. Toto waved goodbye and drove back to his home, already thinking about their next project.