

Name _____

Canvas Creations

Open-Ended Response Answer Key

1. This metaphor suggests that art is like a beautiful and vibrant flower that comes to life on a canvas, conveying the idea that art is a form of expression that can evoke strong emotions.
2. The strokes of one's own hands represent the physical act of creating art, and they allow the artist to convey their unique vision and emotions on the canvas.
3. Answers may vary, but students can describe a specific artwork they've seen or created that evokes strong emotions and discuss why it's difficult to express those emotions in words.
4. Art provides an alternative means of communication and allows individuals to express complex feelings and experiences that may be challenging to put into words, fostering understanding and connection.

