

Name _____

The Art of Casting: A Day in the Life of a Casting Director

Short Answer Key

1. Individuals aspiring to become casting directors commonly pursue degrees in theater, film, or related fields.
2. One crucial skill required for casting directors is effective communication.
3. One of the responsibilities of casting directors during auditions is reviewing actor headshots and resumes to identify potential candidates.
4. Effective communication is essential for casting directors to understand the vision of directors and producers and convey casting decisions.
5. The satisfaction of discovering talent and contributing to successful projects makes the career of a casting director rewarding despite its challenges.

