

Name _____

NGOs as Catalysts for Change: Impact on Local Communities and Grassroots Development

Short Answer

1. Provide an example of how NGOs promote environmental conservation within local communities.
2. Explain the concept of women's empowerment and describe one initiative that an NGO might undertake to support women in a local community.
3. Describe one way in which NGOs can raise awareness about critical issues within local communities, and explain why awareness is essential.
4. How do NGOs contribute to disaster preparedness in communities, and why is this important?
5. Share an example of an NGO that focuses on human rights and social justice and describe their advocacy work in a specific context.

