Short Answer Key

1. Forests provide caterpillars with fresh leaves to eat and plenty of places to hide.
2. In grasslands, caterpillars eat grasses, wildflowers, and shrubs.
3. Caterpillars cannot live in deserts because there are no plants, and they cannot live in oceans because they need dry land to crawl and eat.
4. Gardens have a variety of plants like vegetables and flowers that caterpillars love to eat.
5. Caterpillars use their colors to blend in with their surroundings, making it harder for predators to see them.
