

Name _____

Mark, the Change-Maker

Open-Ended Response Answer Key

1. Mark is described as an activist who fights for positive change because he has a strong passion for making the world a better place. This tells us that he is dedicated and cares deeply about important issues.
2. Answers may vary, but students could imagine Mark organizing rallies, speaking at events, or working with others to raise awareness and promote positive change.
3. Mark's passion and determination can inspire others by showing them the importance of taking action and making a difference. People who see his commitment may be motivated to join him in his efforts.
4. It is important for individuals like Mark to advocate for positive change because they can bring attention to important issues, inspire others to take action, and contribute to creating a better world for everyone.

