All About Cheetahs

Open-Ended Response Answer Key

1. It is important to protect cheetahs to keep balance in the ecosystem and prevent them from going extinct.
2. A cheetah's spotted coat helps it blend into tall grass, and its black tear marks reduce glare from the sun.
3. If cheetahs became extinct, the balance of animals in the ecosystem could change, and their prey might become too numerous.
4. People can help protect cheetahs by supporting wildlife reserves and preventing habitat destruction.
