

Name _____

Chemical Changes in Living Things

Open-Ended Response Answer Key

1. They let living things get energy, grow, and survive.
2. Both plants and animals use chemical changes to turn one thing into something new, like sugar into energy.
3. We wouldn't get energy, heal, or breathe properly.
4. When food is digested, when you burn energy, or when you grow.