The Circus Catastrophe: A Tale of Misfit Performers

Short Answer Key

1. Chuckles the Clown was known for his terrible jokes and clumsy antics. During his performance, he tripped over his own oversized shoes and threw cream pies into the audience.
2. The Topsy-Turvy Twins were acrobats. During their trapeze routine, they got tangled in the ropes, and a flurry of colorful costumes rained down on the audience.
3. The Strongman's special talent was his strength. During his act, he struggled to lift a barbell, and when he finally did, it crashed through the stage floor.
4. Daisy the Tightrope Walker had a fear of heights, which made her performance nerve-wracking. To cope, she inched her way across the tightrope while clutching a stuffed animal for dear life.
