

Name _____

A Day in the Life of a Clownfish

Short Answer Key

1. Being diurnal means clownfish are active during the day and rest at night.
2. Clownfish clean the sea anemone and get protection from its stinging tentacles.
3. Clownfish live in groups for protection and to follow a social structure.
4. If a predator comes close, clownfish might dart out to scare it away.
5. Clownfish stay close to their sea anemone because it provides protection.