Club Chaos at Central Middle School

Short Answer Key

1. Sarah accidentally mistook a tomato for a red bell pepper.
2. The Drama Club members encouraged embracing mistakes and improvisation after Mark forgot his lines during a rehearsal.
3. The accidental artwork created in the Art Club was named "Purple Chaos."
4. The Music Club members giggled during a rehearsal when their voices cracked during a high note. Mr. Rodriguez joined in the laughter and reminded them that even the best singers had their off days.
5. The Book Club embraced the motto, "There are no mistakes in art—only happy accidents," which related to a memorable discussion about a book's ending by encouraging open-minded interpretations.
