

Name _____

What's Really in the Air?

Short Answer Key

1. Oxygen, nitrogen, carbon dioxide
2. Mixtures keep their parts separate; compounds create a new substance
3. The gases in air are not chemically combined
4. You can filter out the bad gases in air, but compounds must be broken down chemically
5. It helps them control and clean the air for safety and experiments