

Name _____

Control vs. Freedom

Multiple Choice Questions

1. Why did the government in Jonas's community remove emotions and memories?
  - a) To make people smarter
  - b) To protect people from pain and conflict
  - c) To help people become more creative
  - d) To make people follow the rules better
2. How did the government control people's choices?
  - a) By letting them vote for leaders
  - b) By making rules that everyone agreed upon
  - c) By assigning jobs, families, and removing memories
  - d) By letting people learn from history
3. What real-world issue does Jonas's story relate to?
  - a) Governments limiting freedom and censoring information
  - b) People forgetting how to read
  - c) People choosing their own careers
  - d) Schools teaching too many subjects
4. Why did Jonas decide to leave his community?
  - a) He wanted to explore the world and meet new people
  - b) He wanted to escape the rules and live without responsibilities
  - c) He realized that people needed freedom, emotions, and memories to truly live
  - d) He was chosen to start a new community elsewhere
5. What lesson does The Giver teach about freedom and control?
  - a) A world without choices is better because people won't make mistakes
  - b) Controlling people's thoughts and feelings can lead to peace
  - c) Governments should always make decisions for people
  - d) True happiness comes from making choices, even if mistakes happen

