Crocodile Behavior: Night Hunters of the Wild

Open-Ended Response Answer Key

1. Crocodiles prefer hunting alone because they can ambush prey more effectively without sharing.
2. (Example) As a crocodile, I would spend the day basking in the sun and then hunt at night by hiding in the water.
3. Their powerful jaws, sharp teeth, and stealthy swimming make them great hunters.
4. If crocodiles were not nocturnal, they might overheat during the day and have a harder time hunting.
