

Name _____

Indonesia: A Mosaic of Culture and People

Short Answer Key

1. One of the major religious festivals celebrated in Indonesia is Eid al-Fitr, which marks the end of Ramadan, a month of fasting. It is a time for family gatherings, special prayers, and the exchange of gifts.
2. Aromatic herbs and spices play a crucial role in Indonesian cuisine by adding depth and complexity to dishes. They enhance flavor, provide fragrance, and contribute to the uniqueness of each dish.
3. Batik textiles are essential in Indonesian culture as they represent the nation's heritage and traditions. They are worn for various occasions, from daily life to special ceremonies, and often carry symbolic meanings and regional identities.
4. Possible answers for ethnic groups in Indonesia besides Javanese, Sundanese, or Balinese include Batak, Minangkabau, Dayak, and Acehnese, among others.
5. Traditional Indonesian houses known as "rumah adat" are characterized by their elevated structures, steep thatched roofs, and intricate wood carvings. They are designed to suit the local climate and reflect the cultural identity of the region.

