The Dance of Time

Open-Ended Response Answer Key

1. Answers will vary. Students can provide their interpretations of the river metaphor and explain whether they agree or disagree with it. They should support their opinions with reasons.
2. Students can share specific memories and reflect on how those memories have shaped their lives and contributed to their personal growth.
3. Students can describe a particular situation where they felt caught between the past and the future and explain how they dealt with it. They should also discuss the lessons they learned from that experience.
4. Students can create their own metaphors for time, explaining how their chosen metaphor reflects their understanding of time's nature and significance.
