

Name _____

The Great Depression: America's Darkest Hour

Open-Ended Response Questions

1. Imagine you lived during the Great Depression. How do you think your family would have coped with the challenges of that time?
2. Reflect on the role of government in responding to economic crises like the Great Depression. How important is government intervention in such situations?
3. Explore the idea of resilience during difficult times. How do communities and individuals demonstrate resilience in the face of adversity?
4. Discuss the parallels between the Great Depression and other economic crises in history. What lessons can be learned from the experiences of the past?

