How Deer Communicate in the Wild

Open-Ended Response Answer Key

1. Deer use sound, scent, body language, and visual displays to communicate different messages.
2. It is important for deer to communicate in different ways to stay safe, find mates, and protect young.
3. Communication helps deer warn others of danger, avoid predators, and care for fawns.
4. (Example) If I were a deer, I would raise my tail and stomp my hooves to warn the herd of danger.
